

THE NATIONAL HISTORY MUSEUM

Office 3.24
Department of Egyptian Archeology
July 22nd, 1965

To Adam Findlay,

I regret having to deliver this news to you via post, but given my other obligations, I trust you will understand.

It is with my sincerest condolences that I inform you we will be dissolving your department effective at the end of the month. Despite our continued funding of your endeavors, we have seen no tangible results. Simply put, without new artifacts to enrich the museum's collection, the board of directors finds no justification for maintaining the department.

Once again, I am truly sorry about this, Dr. Findlay, and I hope you find a museum better suited to your specific field of interest.

Regards,
Dr. Altman

Menshutet, Egypt
Might save department

Wootit